

Letter to Mrs. Stearns' awesome students,

Hello all. Hope you and your families are safe and well. I'm at home with my daughter, Sawyer, who will be finishing her last quarter at Central here at home. We are fine, but I miss you all and I miss my job – no joke! Really!

I have some things that I want you all to do before we come back together at the end of the month. All of you need to finish your Independent Reading books. No excuses. Zero. (I just hope that you have them at home – if not, contact the school. Mr. Henry has been opening the building for a couple of hours a day. Get over there and get it, please).

I have attached digital copies of:

- Literary Analysis form – English III; Honors English I
- Literary Discourse form – Honors English III
- Critical Review form – English I

When you finish your book, download and print the form that is applicable to your particular class. Fill it out, and then if possible, type up the essay.

If you can at least finish the book and fill out the form and pass the AR test on the day we come back, you will get the 50 extra credit points . However, rest assured, the actual last day to turn this in for credit, will still be the end of May.

Note to 4th period, Honors III

Finish your Crucible essays. I had you all the way through except for a conclusion chat, but you are all quite capable of reading the instructions, looking at the example, and completing the WHOLE paper, by time we meet again. No excuses!

A final note: I know many of you say you don't like to read. However, I challenge you in this difficult time, to give it a try. It is a great way to take you mind off the challenges you face in this "stay home, stay safe" era. And please, having said that, do that. Keep yourselves and your families safe. Stay in and read a good book!

Miss you all and hope to see you soon,

Mrs. Stearns
